

McGuire and Hester Named 2010 Contractor of The Year

On February 25th the American Public Works Association's Northern California Chapter (APWA) named McGuire and Hester the 2010 Contractor of the Year. The APWA is an international educational and professional association of public agencies, private sector companies and individuals dedicated to providing high quality public works goods and services.

Our own Vice President, Robert Doud accepted the award on behalf of the Company. It was an honor to receive this top award, especially knowing that it isn't awarded every year. It is always amazing how poorly some of our competition treat their public clients, claiming that it doesn't really matter since all you have to be is low on the next bid. Life is simply too short to be confrontational. At McGuire and Hester, we always take pride and go the extra mile when working with our clients, both private and public. While you might always need to be the low responsible bidder to be awarded the next public project, public agencies do recognize quality work and respect contractors who are professional and fair in how they conduct their business. This has translated time and time again as a benefit for McGuire and Hester when we are the first contractor public agencies call in times of emergency. We proudly display our award in our front lobby and thank APWA for this top honor.
